ABOUT TOWN.

—S. M. Kataoka is visiting friends in Baltimore.

—Montclair is to have a skating rink. The enterprising parties are from Dover. A new roller skating rink was opened in Union Hall Thursday evening by Messrs. Stoner and Cardwell.

—Mrs. James Smith fell on the sidewalk on Washington avenue Thursday morning, sustaining painful injuries.

—Mr. Theo. Miz, formerly of this place but now of New York, lost his youngest child on Sunday by diphtheria.

—The fair spoken of, last week, to be held by the little girls of Westminster Church, will not be held until some time in April.

—A special communication of Bloomfield Lodge, No. 40, F. and A. M., will be held next Tuesday evening, for work in the E. A. degree.

—David Cunningham who was arrested for breaking and entering Post's meat market, was on Tuesday sentenced to five years in State prison.

—Dr. Seibert preached at the German Presbyterian Church last Sunday morning, and Rev. Mr. Hartmann, of the Seminary, in the evening.

—As Willie Fornoff was going to work last Monday morning he slipped and fell down a flight of stone steps near the canal, injuring his leg badly.

—Mr. John D. Slayback desires to "express his hearty thanks to the members of the B. F. A., who assisted in extinguishing the fire at his house last Monday."

—The Whist Club met on Wednesday evening at Mr. E. W. Sutton's. There was not a very full attendance, but those present enjoyed themselves very much.

—Dr. H. E. Richards has sold his interest in the chemical glassware business to his brother Leonard. We are informed that the Doctor proposes to study law.

—The regular meeting of Essex H. & L. Co. No. 1, will be held on Tuesday evening. Important business is to be transacted, and every member is expected to be present.

—Our "Best Society" was given last evening to a "full house," and will be repeated this evening. We regret our inability to report the performance in this week's issue.

—The minstrel entertainment at Reform Club Hall last evening was very good. Mr. Lyne's selections on the banjo being especially fine. A full account will be given in next week's issue.

—Any of our townspeople having relics or rare articles which they are willing to place in the loan collection at the Essex Bazaar, will please communicate with Mr. Duffield, or Messrs. Hardcastle, Peeler or Davis, of the company.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Weeks entertained a large party of their Newark friends Wednesday evening. Mr. Weeks, we understand, expects to move from Bloomfield in the spring. We trust this report is premature and not founded on fact.

—Thomas Costigan, Jr., left for parts unknown Wednesday last, taking with him his brother Peter's gold watch, and $25 belonging to his brother William. A few months ago he ran away, but returned on account of the death of his mother.

—Mr. R. K. Munkittrick likes Bloomfield well enough to make it his home. He has bought a lot on Ridgewood avenue, near Mr. Wilder's stone house, and overlooking the cemetery—a splendid location for a man of Mr. Munkittrick's temperament and profession.

—We have received among our exchanges The Daily Eagle, published at New York, and devoted to information concerning new corporations, railroads, building, mining, etc. It presents a very fair appearance and is well adapted to the wants of those who wish to keep informed regarding such matters.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Swain celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding at their residence on Washington street

Monday evening. A large number of relatives and friends were present and enjoyed the festive occasion in an appropriate manner. The bride and groom received numerous handsome presents.

—When the Bazar is opened on the 23d and 24th of this month, a decided improvement will be seen to have been made in Library Hall. The hall has been cleaned, repainted in pleasing tints, and a large furnace with four new registers added. The space over the stage is to be enclosed to cut off the cold drafts, and other improvements made.

—Miss Jennie Freeman died quite suddenly on Monday, in consequence of a stroke of paralysis which she experienced on Sunday. Miss Freeman was a sister of Mr. William A. Freeman, with whom she has resided for many years, and was a most active member of the congregation and Sunday-school of the First Presbyterian Church.

—Martin Hummel, the new coal dealer, purchased two new horses, of Meyers, the Newark horse dealer, on Monday. Wednesday afternoon he was out riding with one of them and when on Bloomfield avenue near the D. L. & W. R. R. crossing in Montclair, the horse became frightened and ran away, wrecking the the buggy. Mr. Hummel escaped injury.

—Constable Harvey made a successful hunt last night for Michael Ward, a tramp, who is believed to be implicated with Cunningham in the recent burglary at Post's meat market. Ward nightly seeks lodging in the watchman's shanty at the Bloomfield crossing of the Wabash railroad, the place where the officer found him. Ward claims to know nothing about the robbery, but admits that he made one square meal of the uncooked ham on Tuesday night and another of the raw bacon on the following day. He says he found them lying beside the shanty on Tuesday night. He was committed to jail to await trial.

A Card.

The little girls of the First Presbyterian Church, extended to the little girls of the Westminster Society, hearty good wishes for a success equal to that of the entertainment Wednesday night, in the Fair soon to be given by the little Misses of Westminster.

The Handy Atlas.

Iverson, Blakeman, Taylor & Co., Publishers, of New York, have just issued "The Handy Atlas," a small work containing valuable information concerning the population of the chief cities, as well as the maps of all countries and States of the Old and New World, and a map showing the principal railroads in the United States. It is considered accurate and a standard work, and as such merits the place which it will undoubtedly have in every household. It comes in a very attractive form, light and with a flexible cover, and can be readily carried in a small compass.

Phire Pflashes.

On Monday, Feb. 3d, Montclair received a call from the Central Telephone Office, stating that Mr. Slayback's house at Chestnut Hill, was on fire. Within eight minutes after the sending of the call, a general alarm was rung, and the chemical and truck, with less than ten firemen, were on the ground. Essex had arrived first, and had their ladders up, so the detail on the chemical ran their hose up to the second story of the extension and had the first stream on, Essex following shortly after with water from their pump. Chief Marsh, of the B. F. A., was in charge, Montclair being under his command. The fire, after a hard fight on the part of both departments, was put out. Great credit is due to the parties in charge of the house for keeping the fire confined until the arrival of the firemen. That fact, and the quick alarm and response, undoubtedly saved the building. This is the third fire in the Bloomfield district that Montclair has attended.

"The Little Girls' Fair."

The entertainment given by the little girls of the First Presbyterian Church at the Lecture Room, on Wednesday evening, met with a success far beyond the expectations of the older and wiser heads of the congregation. All those who were active in the enterprise were under thirteen years of age. They did credit to themselves as well as to their advisers.

The financial result proved the efficiency with which they accomplished their work. The proceeds from sales at Fancy Table amounted to $49.00. The larger proportion of articles was made by the little Misses. Meanwhile the ladies lent a hand and furnished some of the more elaborate work.

"Home-made Candy" on sale, prevented the usual necessary outlay for sweets; consequently, the amount received at that table netted $26.00.

The refreshments furnished by the parents and friends of the little ones, found an acceptable market and returned $75.00. The little ladies, dressed in dainty white caps and aprons, flitted about the flag decorated room, serving the guests, without apparent weariness. The little gentlemen performed the work assigned to them with dignity and acceptance.

The total net receipts were $160, and total net proceeds reached $130, thus insuring the reupholstering of the pulpit furniture.

Good Fire Duty.

On Monday last, at a few moments after one o'clock P.M., the residence of Mr. John D. Slayback, on Highland avenue, near the Montclair line, was discovered to be on fire. A messenger was sent to the telephone station and the alarm was received at the bell tower, and District 2 was struck at 1.17. The department responded at once and the truck and hose companies arrived at the fire in nine minutes.

The fire was found to be in the second floor of the rear extension, and as it had been burning some time before it was seen had gained much headway and was burning fiercely, as the nearest hydrant was nearly half a mile away it seemed almost certain that the house was doomed to the same fate as the house that formerly stood on the site. Engineer Sabin arrived with the department and Chief Marsh was quickly on the spot. The cistern was uncovered and the pump from the truck was quickly placed in position and started. The room in which the fire started was filled with furniture and bedding, and as dressing cases and beds blocked the windows, they served to cut off the best approaches to the fire and to feed the flames. Entrance was quickly gained through the house and a stream brought to bear on the fire. The pump again showed its great value, throwing a steady stream, and after fifteen minutes of hot work the fire was under control. As the hose company had no use for their hose they worked with the truck company, assisting at the pump, and the Chief speaks in very complimentary terms of the way in which the two companies worked together.

Montclair H. & L. Co., No. 1, and Chemical arrived a few moments after the Bloomfield department and ran in a line of hose from their Chemical, but at that time the fire was under control. The fire originated from a defective flue, a fire having been started for the use of men who were making some repairs on the house. The house was occupied at the time only by the man left in charge, the family being in the City, as is their custom during the winter. The damage will be in the vicinity of $1,200, covered by insurance. The house and contents are worth over fifteen thousand dollars. When the boys were soliciting subscriptions for the fund to buy the truck, Mr. Slayback remarked, as he drew a check for his contribution, that he lived so far away that probably if his house caught fire, it would, owing to the distance, be burned down before the Bloomfield department could arrive. He will probably change his views in this regard after the good work done. The truck company turned out fifteen men, under command of Assistant Foreman Johnson, and the hose company, in charge of Assistant Foreman Corby, had about the same number.
